Basic Self

You are an ego-maniac, always too busy and self-important to care about others. You think you know it all, so you never bother to listen to others. You are so childish and trusting, it's obvious you've never grown up. You are lazy, but whenever you actually do something, you overdo it. (Sun in Leo)

Emotions

You are exact, overly fussy and pedant. In other words: boring. You analyze and criticize your own feelings endlessly and are always complaining about petty matters. On top of that you are stressed and seldom able to relax. This means you are not easy to be around (to say the least). No wonder nobody else is home. (Moon in Virgo)

Mind

You are a nitpicking master of petty details, hopeless at seeing the big picture and unable to discern between big issues and insignificant ones. You are restless and nervous, always babbling nonsense. You'd be intelligent if you could concentrate and do something other than criticise and find faults. (Mercury in Virgo)

Love

You are hopeless in love and relationships. You are overly critical and demand perfection from others. This means you are a pain to live with, always nagging about some insignificant detail. If only you could be perfect yourself! But that's not an option, is it? Not while you're so busy bitching about others. (Venus in Virgo)

Work

You are full of 'hot air'; great at making promises but short on delivery. And you find it difficult to be decisive. You seem like you're cooperative and willing to make compromises, but the fact is you're just a wimp. Try to look in a mirror and say no. (Mars in Libra)
